Business and Industry

Business environments that are contemporary and clean sell very well today.

Look for concepts to tell a story in your designated space that you are giving visual voice. Whenever possible please get property releases as they set our collection apart from the largest distributors.

We recently added a photo of a property-released gas station to Spaces Images. It?s interesting that if you search Getty?s vast collection you won?t find a single PR for gas stations.

Clients that are marketing industries such as transportation, manufacturing, construction and energy generation are looking for fresh images.

Spaces Images has the talent pool and you?re highly encouraged to continue creating fresh spaces.
